KIAH MALONE MAKES CHARGE

Claims to Know Who Sowed His Plantbeds With Grass Seed.

RUMORS OF WARRANTS.

Time Ripe for Some Brave Man to Take Bold Stand For Law and Order.

Affairs in Trigg county are rapidly reaching a state of lawlessness amounting almost to anarchy in the section extending from Gracey to Cerulean Springs and beyond. People here Monday from that section said that nearly all of the plantbeds have been ruined, the association members suffering with the rest. One informant said the beds of Mr. Nabb and other association leaders, it is reported, have been sowed with grass seed. It is believed that a spirit of retaliation has been aroused and that from now on nobody's tobacco bed or barn will be safe. This is the legitimate outcome of the lawless spirit that has disgraced Trigg, Caldwell and Lyon counties for months.

Now and then a man is heard of who is not utterly terrorized. Kiah Malone, one of the men whose beds were sowed about two weeks ago, is reported to have appeared at an association meeting at Mt. Era school house on the night of March 23rd, and to have boldly accused one of the men present of sowing his beds, and declared that he had tracked him from the bed to his home. The man accused got out a warrant last week for Malone's arrest in Trigg county. It is said that Malone took steps to get out one also for his arrest. After a talk over the telephone with parties in Cadiz, it was decided that Malone's plantbeds were in Christian county and not in Trigg. The warrant sworn out for his arrest has not been served. If this state of affairs is as represented the Christian county authorities at last have a case to deal with this side of the Trigg county line. Mr. Malone has not yet asked for a Christian county warrant. Those who know him best say that he is a fearless man and cannot be intimidated. He lives on the county line and it is a doubtful question which county has jurisdiction. If he knows who destroyed his property he can get a warrant in Christian county, if it occurred here, and bring about a much needed investigation of a species of lawlessness that must be stopped in law-abiding communities. It is a penitentiary offense to destroy plantbeds and if Kiah Malone knows who destroyed his beds, he owes it to society as well as himself to prosecute the guilty party.

ANOTHER NEW ENTERPRISE.

Stave Factory Locates Here and Is Ready for Business.

ON L. & N. RAILROAD.

Branch of the Big Kentucky, Stave Company of Louisville.

The Kentucky Stave Company, of Louisville, has opened a branch factory in this city on the former site of the Consumers Ice Co., and will soon be turning out 10,000 barrel staves a day. They make staves for tight barrels and find a waiting market for all their output.

Mr. O. B. Deason will be the agent here and the active management will be in the hands of his brother, Mr. J. S. Deason. They are experienced mill men and are now engaged in putting in the plant.

The new enterprise will employ about twenty hands and the machinery will be ready to start the last of this week or the first of next.

They have a supply mill located at Allegree, one on Tradewater river, two near Russellville and still another near Providence. These mills supply the factories with stave timber, which is worked up and sent to the barrel factories.
